Recognizing Culture Authentically in Early Education Settings

Recognizing the myriad of ways that children are diverse is an ethical obligation in our practice as educators. Our appreciation for diversity is reflected in our interactions, environment, and mindset. This course helps educators to integrate an authentic appreciation for diversity into their teaching practices and teaching mindset. Through application of the methods discussed, educators are able to connect with children and their families more effectively.

Weaving Literacy into Math and Science Activities

Advanced Implementation of Early Literacy in Your Early Childhood Program level 3 focuses on the integration of early literacy into math and science learning activities. Also addressed is how to adapt early literacy activities for math and science for children who are dual language learners and for children with special needs.

Hiring and Orientation

January 23rd, 1:00-3:00 pm, Event #418487

January 30th, 6:30-8:30 pm, Event #417150

Two Options!
Pick the date and time
that works best!

Learn effective strategies for hiring educators and providing an orientation which prepares them to work effectively in your organization. Discuss standards for professional development and identify ways to support staff in honing their skills.

Supporting Staff for Success

February 12th, 1:00-3:00 pm, Event #418878

February 5th, 6:30-8:30 pm, Event #419422

Two Options!
Pick the date and time
that works best!

Learn effective strategies for supporting your staff in their teaching practice. Being an effective leader includes recognizing your own biases and blind spots. Reflect on how you set your staff up for success through considering the emotional climate of your program.

Leading for Equity

March 5th, 1:00-3:00 pm, Event #418928

March 12th 6:30-8:30 pm, Event #418931

Two Options!
Pick the date and time
that works best!

Engage in conversation to create shared understanding of what equity means, as well as learn practices that we can integrate into our leadership practice to support equity. Discuss how hiring and interview processes can be improved to create more equitable organizations.
